

Gifts of I Am

© Wings of Spirit

The glory of our God, it is a beautiful experience we are undertaking here in the earth, for wisdom is that which is called the love of our God, and it multiplies rapidly now in understanding minds. The wisdom teaches of its own accord, after the image and likeness which it is in all. It is helpful if you will now abide in a peace with an open mind and heart as we share with you this information.

Coming to new understandings, the children of God are opening aspects of their natures they have not understood in the past. If you find yourself at a point where you do not understand the feelings and emotions that are coming through you, it is a very good thing. Be not afraid. That which is the shift of the ages is now very much at hand, and each of you carries within your heart what is called "the new world" to begin. Your minds are undergoing change, deeply so. And your will is not being influenced by other methods that used to control your personal will, but it is being influenced by Divine will deep within your I AM. The resistance that might be experienced as this takes place will bring many of you to points of confusion, doubt, and pressures of the mind. Hopefully, as you consent to the Divine will emerging, you will not undergo stress, but you will feel empowered instead.

The work of God, which is at work in you, is mighty to behold as we abide in the Christ. Holding you now with love, gathering you in sweet caress, I AM, the light of God, becomes the gift which is gifted by your I AM Presence. Herein, we live, one in the other one, in joy as we take what is given from you as manifestations of God's Grace. Children of the light pouring now into the planetary system, this is the gift in all life now encountering Itself, one in the other one, and holding many ideas which have not been acceptable before. Ideas such as:

The Will of God is the only aspect of the movement of the mind;
and the Will of God is that which keeps me focused;
and the Will of God is that which carries forth Its life in me -- each breath I take;
and the Will of God is the understanding heart which I have no reference of past memory to claim, where I am, Lord, use me."

I, the perfect idea which is gathered within Myself, am now coming to experience all in all, little by little, as though a snail creeping across the ground searching for the all that is in the earth. I have gathered wisdom, love, understanding, peace, joy, fear. You name it, I have gathered it. And I am about reclaiming my territory in Christ which can accept all things as a part of that which is God.

We, you, master teachers, Beings of Light, angelic realms, kingdoms come, all, that which is God, is holding a pattern of energy that is so beautiful to behold. We acclaim your name as holy, holy, holy, and we rejoice with you in these days to come.

Heart centers are being claimed as the Will of God. Every time your mind says, "here I am, Lord. I seek to be your Will in Earth." And, as you move forward with this idea to focused light, you will not be able to contain the glory of it all! You will feel so elated at times that you think you must explode! And you will explode with light, joy, peace, love, understanding, tremendous encounters of personal light! And those who abide with you will rejoice in your rejoicing.

Carry that which is in your heart as a small idea of the beginning of time which you are to enter, and let that little bit of gift that you can see in this moment be as a small speck in time that is to be revealed to you. The eye is the single eye of God which sees through the light of Itself and beholds kingdoms beyond this one, gloried in our Father's gift. Holy be the energy encompassing those of you who seek to be remembered in the love of Christ and embraced as the eternal life of God which you are about, seeking love and holding that love till it comes to pass.

With you there are many Beings of Light serving in our Father's realms of service known not to you now, but which shall be felt in the heart as companionship, not knowing from where it comes. As you sit, or stand, or walk, or run to do your chores of the day, many of you will begin to feel the Presence of God, yet you cannot see it beside you. But we are here loving you just the same.

This Will of God extends itself and carries with it information that is beyond the mind's grasping. But in the days to come, that which is called "the mind," having accepted more of the love which generates its ideas, will be embracing more of itself, and, therefore, understanding more of its idea in creation as Creator, following in the footsteps of the master, Jesus Christ.

Each of you has spent many eons of time in evolution. And the Will of our Father is rejoicing as the evolution blooms into consciousness that has been seeded in the past, gathered with it nourishment from the experiences in the Earth and beyond, more to the glory of our God. And each evolutionary spiral into a new experience of life gives to the giver, which is the gift of God IN you, a blessing, and empowers you with more creative ability to participate in the formation of the many worlds in which we all have our experiences.

Registrations from on high have come to bless you with the gift of light. And as you experience this light, each of you will have a different experience of what that energy may feel like. Movement will be felt: stirrings, penetrations into the heart fields of remembrance, bringing forth that activity of energy, which is felt as love, joy, and even pain and sorrow. Many of you will undergo these experiences within your mind and heart. Be not afraid, for as the coming of the Christ was promised of old, so it is with you now. And each of you will have your own personal experience of blessings of gifts of Grace and light which God empowers within you by the Holy Spirit to bring Its name to give you ideas of joy. Hold the patterns as they hold you with understandingô no matter what the energy felt of mind and heartô that it is God making Itself remembered in its truest aspect of creation in you.

Each of you has what is called òthe Gift of Spirit,ö and the Gift of Spirit is unique to each one of you! Yet, it complements the Spirit in all. And as these gifts unfold into the light of remembered union and creation, that which you create from the aspect of knowing this truth will be beyond your grasp to entertain at this time.

Holy is the light of God in all, and all light multiplies rapidly. So holy be the gift encountered in the earth, that which is called òmanifestation of the consciousness of the children of light.ö Many walls will begin to crumble very rapidly now, and that which is of lesser light than that which is called òeternal lightö will be brought into the light of degenerative energy so that it can be re-created again in a higher frequency and dimension of space.

Let your mind be rested. It is the most important lingering that can be entertained by you in a moment=s time. Hold the idea of simple abundance, gracious giving, multitudes of information coming through. Let each idea fill all space in your mind given in a moment. And as you allow it to fill all space, then be with it constantly, until whatever idea enters to take its place. Let not your mind wander to future time, but keep a listening mind, which is given by God to this moment in which you find yourself to be. Recognize that in each moment we have eternity and the gifts of our God seeking to make themselves known. If the mind wanders and roams, how can we possibly understand what is here at hand now? Such is the Kingdom of God. Remember, the Kingdom of God is at hand.

Holding vibrations of love and carrying those vibrations into every activity of your day, that which is the result of love vibrations must draw forth gifts of Grace, which are the extension of God in consciousness. Holding simplicity is an easy way to keep the mind focused and centered upon the capacity that is given you in a moment. Let the love of God just fill all space where you find yourself to be -- no matter what the activity. And peace be upon the heart which this is the state of mind. Hallowed be My name in each of you. I AM. My Will contains the essence of the all in all which the name proclaims we are all I AM we are. Our Mother/Father God in heaven on earth is the will to which you find yourself aware. And each of you, looking at that which is aware in the other one, find the gift of Grace in all. And you will understand more of the unified field which the mind of unified love now brings each of you into a time of knowing

I AM the presence of my God.
 I AM the presence of my God.
 My God is the presence I AM.
 My God is the presence I AM.

I AM willed to understanding by that which I AM and guaranteed that which is the gift, that which comes as that which is given by I AM love. No more questioning or wondering from a state of frustration, but a questioning and a wondering from excitement and joy, knowing that the questioning and the wondering is that which brings forth what must be understood in order to have a greater capacity for co-creation in our God.

If we can come to the understanding that listening in the stillness and the silence is the only activity that is needed for that which is the entire being to fill all moment in space, we will be gifted beyond measure in our ability to gift ourselves with what we seek to have given.

The love of God fills Itself with desire in the heart each of you is. And now we understand, coming into the power of one, that each of you is a light, a beautiful light, a glorified light of God working Itself in time, giving of Itself to time, and being of Itself in I AM.

Now let us be still as we allow the Christ to fill our mind with that which is the information which is needed at this time to assist in our knowing more of who I AM you are. We are one.

Beacons of light help the individual see the gift of eternal life. These beacons of light, pouring into the planetary system, are received by antenna, so to speak, reaching forth through your desire to know the Will of God. Each time you bring the focus of your awareness to this activity or intention of mind and heart, you literally draw into yourself beacons of light.

Light is the only idea which you can understand as that which gives more Wisdom of Itself in what is created, which you are. With you, so many have been sent to assist in this. We are attracting light because we ARE light. You are attracting light because you are light. In this attraction, we become more unified, always. And when the mind cooperates with the natural light force at the center of all life, which you are, bringing its focus in alignment with the state of being which exists in you at all time, then you begin to absorb and attract light at frequency levels beyond your measure. And the light then is free by what is called ñno interferenceö from the mind. It is free to take within itself what is given of the light called wisdom, love, understanding, and transformation of the soul.

Each of you is now a participant of one, bringing into your frequency (or measure of existence) your attentive awareness, or focused reality of I AM THAT I AM. Each of you is bringing in frequencies that are contributing to the whole, making it easier for each one of you to bring in this information through the light and attracting it as a whole. As this occurs, it increases exponentially in the earth daily and brings about a quantum leap of consciousness, spiraling into a new beginning.

That which you are, so radiant as our God, becomes brighter and brighter, moment by moment. The love of the light seeks to make Itself more deeply understood. In fact, it is about giving of that which is called ða treasury of sortsö to the mind, so that not only that which you have understood in the past, but that which you will grasp in the future, is being made more available to you. And then, from the perspective of the current moment reality of mind=s capacity, you will be able to grasp more of what you truly are, even though yet not revealed.

Passion is a commodity of the heart and the mind brought together in a focus of great willed intention. As the mind sits in its stillness, waiting upon the Lord, that which is the light, entering by that intention, fills the space of mind and heart with the gift of desire. Desire in you is the passion of God seeking, if you will, a mind/heart, an instrument of light such as yourself, which it can use to wield its desire into manifestation.

The gift which is seeking to be made known through you is that which God would have you entertain as a blessing, glorifying its= name. Those who do not interfere, but hold the gift as the joy or blessing given already received, glorify God and the desire of the passionate heart of God almighty to come into manifestation. Thus we have ðheaven in the earth.ö

Doubt, fear and worry are disclaimers to the passion of God. And these are the sins that keep the child in suffering and the light from entering into that which is I AM to bring forth its greatest glory, the passion of our Lord.

Purpose has no meaning other than it is the gift that God would seek to have manifest in the gift of earth through you, that which is the giver. Holy is the energy that seeks to make Itself known through each of you now. Open your minds and hearts to the gift. Let the desires of your heart be recognized as the passion of God to fulfill its nature through you as you. It is I AM one.

Lift your hearts to a place of total acceptance. When you can totally accept the desire, the manifestation is assured, for there is nothing left to interfere with it coming to pass. If you resist in any way with doubt, fear, worry, anxiety, anger, resentment or withholding, that which is the passion of God cannot manifest. For the passion of God is ALWAYS brought into being by the energy frequency called ðI accept I AM. I rejoice in I AM. I peacefully move through life as the gift giving itself through me.ö

Master teachers, each of you, listen carefully now. The gift of Spirit, you have sought to have fulfilled as joy, peace, love, and sense of oneness in God, is the passion of our Lord seeking to make Itself known to Itself in you that it is. Worry not, my child. Do not be afraid. Listen only with your I AM to the truth that seeks to bless itself in you. Let the words of the inner voice speak loudly to your heart. They are easily discerned by the frequency of joy that is felt. That which is known is given. Holy be these words unto you now. Take them as a gift of Grace, and let not your ears move away from this teaching until it has engaged the totality of your being so that you are truly open to that which you are.

The master teacher within you knows this truth, and it will say, "Yes, I do understand.ö Help yourself by being very still and looking toward the gift of God=s holy light within yourself. For you and you alone can know the truth, and it can only be revealed through that which is you are. Many shall come to mirror yourself, but only you can feel and know that which is looking at you. You are the one which you seek. You are the light to which you are welcomed in our God. You are the current reality of all truth. You are the beloved I AM.

Peeks of information will flow. Do not try to understand them all at once, but know that when they enter into the brain to give you wisdom in the earth, they will ALWAYS remain. And they will be there accessible to you through your stilled awareness. Focus often at the pineal gland. Keep the center of the light there in holding patterns of still I AM. Be not afraid to enter deeply into the cranium of consciousness, and be allowing to yourself in all thought that enters into this realm of knowing. Let not any thought become crystallized, but allow it=s free-flow as a river flowing in and through your awareness. Seek not to hold any vision other than I AM the Will of God. Let therefore your heart be pure. Let your mind be single in its thought and feeling. Let each one of you possess the I AM presence of Jesus Christ. That which is already given within you, let it be known today. Take no thought other than:

I AM the will of God.
Blessed be I AM as me, for I AM true.
I AM all in all.
I AM that which is I AM.
